Thanks, I appreciate your attitude on this. I won't text you unless I really need to.

Email usually is fine, I think what happened is that a whole bunch of emails got sent around the same time last Friday and that one was just buried in there and I didn't see it at the time. I understand we are in crunch time and if you email me this weekend and I don't respond within a few hours, feel free to text me.

Sorry again, Caryn

So long as you have access to email, that should be fine. I try very hard not to make anyone else work on the weekend unless I have to, but sometimes it's necessary. I don't expect that to be the case here, but if you can keep an eye out just in case I need to bounce something off you, that would be appreciated.

In the meantime, is there a better way to get messages to you than email?

JP, I have been sorting through emails and I apologize but I had not seen the one below until today. I wanted to let you know that I will not be in town this weekend or next weekend. Cooper's brother is getting married June 23 and we have to prepare to make food for around 80 guests starting this weekend. I will also be out of the office next Friday, June 22 to help them. I just wanted to make sure you knew my schedule so that we can plan around it. Thanks, Caryn
